Do you keep chickens, ducks, geese...

Help protect your birds from the risk of #birdflu

Did you know?

There is a constant risk of bird flu in the UK from wild birds. As it's highly contagious take action to protect your birds from catching it.

Remember

Any very sick birds, or unexplained deaths, must be assessed by your vet. By law suspicion of bird flu is notifiable and can affect poultry movement and trade.

Tip 1: Cleaning

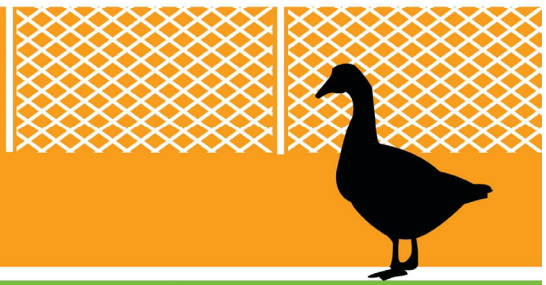
Clean footwear before and after visiting your birds. Keep areas clean and tidy, and regularly disinfect hard surfaces. Humanely control rats and mice.

Tip 2: Feeding

Place your birds' food and water in fully enclosed areas that are protected from wild birds, and remove any spilled feed regularly.

Tip 3: Fencing

Keep your birds separate from wildlife and wild waterfowl by putting suitable fencing around the outdoor areas they access.



Tip 4: Stay aware

Poultry Club of Great Britain

Notice of Annual General Meeting

Will be held on

Sunday 13th September 2026 at 10:00am

ALL MEMBERS OF THE POULTRY CLUB ARE INVITED TO ATTEND

Welcome

Dear Members and Exhibitors,

It gives me enormous pleasure to welcome you to The Poultry Club's National Championship Poultry & Egg Show Schedule. Whether you are exhibiting, judging, stewarding, volunteering or simply visiting, I thank you for joining us and for supporting what remains the premier showcase for pure breeds of poultry in the UK.

The past few years have undoubtedly been among the most challenging in our Club's 149-year history. Avian influenza has had a profound and unwarranted impact on our hobby, our members and the wider poultry community. Long-established shows have been cancelled, opportunities to exhibit and exchange bloodlines have been disrupted, and many fanciers have questioned what the future may hold for our wonderful pastime.

Whilst the timing of this year's show may not be ideal for every exhibitor and their birds, it has been carefully chosen to give us the very best opportunity of holding a National Show without the uncertainty that accompanies the higher-risk avian influenza season. Our priority has always been to provide a safe environment in which exhibitors can once again enjoy friendly competition and celebrate the very best of our traditional breeds.

This year we are particularly pleased to welcome our waterfowl exhibitors back to the National Championship Show. Their return allows us to present a truly complete exhibition of domestic poultry. However, we must also recognise the additional responsibilities that accompany their attendance. Waterfowl can, in some cases, carry avian influenza without displaying obvious clinical signs. That makes vigilance and biosecurity the responsibility of every one of us.

I therefore ask all exhibitors to play their part by ensuring that every bird brought to the show is fit, healthy and showing no signs of illness. Equally important is the cleanliness of the equipment we bring with us. Carriage boxes, crates, baskets, clothing, footwear and hands all have a role to play in preventing the spread of disease. Excellent biosecurity is not simply a requirement of the organisers—it is a commitment we make to one another and to the future of the poultry fancy.

I very much look forward to meeting exhibitors and visitors over the course of the weekend. The National Show is about far more than competition; it is an opportunity to renew friendships, encourage newcomers, celebrate excellence in breeding and demonstrate that our community remains resilient despite the challenges we continue to face.

Finally, I would like to thank every member, volunteer, sponsor and supporter who continues to stand behind The Poultry Club. As a registered charity, your membership, donations and generosity are more important than ever. They enable us to preserve our poultry heritage, maintain the British Poultry Standards, educate future generations and ensure that organisations such as ours can continue to serve the poultry fancy for many years to come.

I wish every exhibitor the very best of luck, hope our visitors enjoy a wonderful day, and look forward to welcoming you all to Lincolnshire Showground this September.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP POULTRY AND EGG SHOW REGULATIONS

The National Championship Show is held under The Poultry Club rules with the following additions:

1. During periods of increased disease risk to our national flock, any bird showing signs of respiratory disease during inspection will be prohibited from entering the gathering. In addition, all other birds from the same owner and/or place of origin will also be excluded. This measure is a recommendation from the authorities responsible for the control and prevention of notifiable avian diseases in the UK. Entry fees will not be refunded when birds are excluded on health grounds. Bio-security rules and prevention measures for Avian disease must be adhered to by all exhibitors.
2. All birds must enter in clean carriers/boxes with clean bedding. All carriers/boxes must be solid sided and/or secured in such a fashion that bedding cannot fall out of out of carriers during transit/entry.
3. Cockerel and pullet classes refer to birds hatched on, or after, 1 January in the show year.
4. No bird from a trio or pair is eligible for single bird specials. A trio or pair is classed as one exhibit and must remain intact.
5. Exhibits may be delivered and staged at the Show Hall between 18:00 and 19:30 hours on Friday or between 06:30 and 08:30 hours on Saturday. Last admittance on Friday is 19:15 and the show hall closes at 20:00. No admittance outside these times without prior permission of the show manager.
6. Exhibitors must complete a declaration including their unique CPH number before admittance to the show.
7. All birds must be penned by 08:30 hours on the Saturday. No late admittance.
8. Feeding and watering will be the responsibility of the exhibitor. Breed Clubs will check that unattended exhibits are fed and watered after judging. Feed and water will be supplied.
9. No exhibits may be removed before 14:00 on Sunday, or until all the birds are accounted for. Only the Show Manager can give the go-ahead to release birds from the Show Hall. Egg exhibits can be boxed from 13:00 and poultry from 13:30. This will be strictly adhered to.
10. No classes will be cancelled, amalgamated, or divided.
11. The appointed judge will award the Breed Club Specials reserved for Breed Club Members, the distribution of the Specials will be the responsibility of the various Clubs concerned.
12. The Poultry Club Trophy cards will be placed on relevant pens.
13. Exhibits entered in incorrect classes are liable to be excluded from competition.
14. It is permissible for birds to wear only a single closed Poultry Club official leg ring or wing tag (includes Isle of Man, EU and 2009 BWA rings), so long as they do not indicate in any way the actual ownership of exhibits, or otherwise identify them with their exhibitors. This is to be the only form of identification.
15. Only birds entered in the show will be permitted in the show hall.
16. All birds will be inspected on arrival at the show hall and the Organisers or their Stewards reserve the right to search show boxes at any time.
17. The Poultry Club disclaims all responsibility for lost or mistaken exhibits.
18. No entries can be accepted without correct entry and membership fee. Incorrect entry fees are liable to lead to exclusion. Entry fees, pre-paid catalogue, admission, postage & other fees made at the time of entry are non-refundable in the event of non-attendance.
19. A parent or guardian must accompany all Junior Handlers at the time of judging.

About Avian Influenza

How to spot avian influenza

There are 2 types of avian influenza. Highly pathogenic avian influenza (HPAI) is the more serious type. It is often fatal in birds. The main clinical signs of HPAI in birds are:

- swollen head
- blue discolouration of neck and throat
- loss of appetite
- respiratory distress such as gaping beak, coughing, sneezing, gurgling, rattling
- Diarrhoea
- fewer eggs laid
- increased mortality

Clinical signs can vary between species of bird and some species may show minimal clinical signs (ducks and geese).

Low pathogenic avian influenza (LPAI) is usually less serious. It can cause mild breathing problems, but affected birds will not always show clear signs of infection.

The severity of LPAI depends on the type of bird and whether it has any other illnesses.

Anyone who keeps poultry must keep a close watch on them for any signs of disease, and must seek prompt advice from their vet if they have any concerns.

How Avian Influenza is spread

The disease spreads from bird to bird by direct contact or through contaminated body fluids and faeces. It can also be spread by contaminated feed and water or by dirty vehicles, clothing and footwear.

The avian influenza virus changes frequently, creating new strains, and there is a constant risk that one of the new strains may spread easily among people. But there is no evidence that any recent strain of avian influenza has been able to spread directly between people.

Avian influenza is not an airborne disease.

Advice for the public

Some strains of avian influenza can pass to humans, but this is very rare. It usually requires very close contact between the human and infected birds. Based on what is known about the H5N8 strain, the risk to public health is considered very low.

There have never been any recorded cases of H5N8 in humans. More information on avian influenza in people is available from your relevant public health authority.

The Food Standards Agency advises that bird flu does not pose a food safety risk for UK consumers. Properly cooked poultry and poultry products, including eggs, are safe to eat.

If you employ people who work with poultry or work with poultry yourself, you can also read Health and Safety Executive advice on protecting workers from avian influenza.

Wild birds

If you find dead wild waterfowl (swans, geese or ducks) or other dead wild birds, such as gulls or birds of prey, you should report them by calling Defra's national helpline: 03459 33 55 77.

By collecting and testing those birds, the Government can better understand how the disease is distributed geographically and identify the species affected.

APHA (Animal and Plant Health Agency) publish a report (updated regularly) on findings of highly pathogenic avian influenza (bird flu) H5N8 in wild birds in Great Britain.

Biosecurity Information for Poultry Gatherings Participants

Participants must familiarise themselves with the symptoms of Avian Influenza and other notifiable diseases and should take all reasonable steps to minimise the risk of spread of such diseases through adopting pro-active biosecurity measures including, but not limited to:

Minimise the movement of birds between enclosures, and between sites
Ensure clean footwear before and after visits, and between sites
Take steps to deter wild birds, particularly waterfowl
Feed and water birds under cover and remove any spillages
Execute an effective programme of vermin control
Maintain good cleanliness and hygiene, regularly disinfect hard areas
Secure poultry enclosures with appropriate fencing to deter wild birds
Use of disinfectant mats or foot dips between buildings

Before entering a poultry gathering, participants must:

- Not enter if the place of origin of the birds is within an area of the UK which is under restrictions relating to notifiable avian disease (including Prevention, Protection and Surveillance Zones)
- Not enter birds that have attended a poultry gathering in the previous 14 days, or if new birds have been brought onto the premises of origin in the past 14 days
- Inspect the health of all birds at the place of origin before departure
- Not move birds if there are any signs, or suspicion of any disease
- Transport birds in clean solid-bottom and sided carriers
- Use clean bedding material at the start of the journey, on the date of departure, which must be contained within the carrier at all times.

On arrival to the gathering, participants must:

- Present themselves visibly clean, free from faecal contamination, feathers, or other bedding matter with unsoiled footwear or over-boots
- Present a signed declaration, confirming:
    - The CPH number of the premises of origin
    - The origin of the poultry is not from within a restricted area
    - The identified birds are healthy, and
    - They will follow the instructions of the poultry gathering licence
- Ensure their birds remain isolated from all other birds, until each has been individually inspected by a named poultry expert
- Present each carrier (and each bird therein) for a health inspection before entering the gathering
- Be prepared to surrender any bird that fails the initial health inspection into isolation for a further examination by a veterinary surgeon, or in the case of suspected Avian Influenza, an APHA veterinary inspector

- Assist in the clean-up of any spilled bedding (from carriers) immediately by double-bagging and spraying with an approved disinfectant for use against poultry diseases – supplied by the poultry gathering organiser.

At the end of the gathering participants must:

- Remove all their birds and carriers from the gathering venue
- Inspect each bird for signs of ill health, notifying the gathering organiser and/or poultry expert if disease is suspected
- If disease is suspected; isolate those birds for a veterinary inspection and if Avian Influenza is suspected APHA must be notified immediately (as per the organiser's Contingency Plan)
- In the case of suspected Avian Influenza, no birds should leave the premises until an APHA veterinary inspector has permitted the movement.

On Return to the place of origin, gathering participants must:

- Inspect the general health of all birds before removing from the carrier
- Isolate birds returning to the place of origin for a minimum of one week, observing their health throughout that time
- Notify the gathering organiser immediately if ill health or disease is suspected
- Dispose of waste material from the carriers, ideally through heated composting for a minimum of 42 days then applied to land as fertiliser
- Not re-enter any birds (existing or purchased) to participate in a gathering for at least 13 days after returning from another gathering.
